

RELIABLE PEOPLE

TO GO TO WHEN YOU WANT TO GET THE BEST

And Everything as is Represented in Their Advertisements and Notices.

[Below we give a list of a few of our advertisers all of whom we can recommend as being thoroughly reliable and who live up to their promises. This column will be continued from day to day until every advertiser has had a special write up.]

We have had occasion heretofore to call attention to the new broom factory recently started at West Berkeley by the Van Laak Manufacturing Company. In addition to the broom and brush business they have added that of wooden and willow ware. It is with pleasure that we are able to announce that the outlook for the future with this house is very flattering. Their present manufactory is not large enough for the business already in hand. A more roomy workshop will soon be obtained and then a dozen more employees will be added to the present force. For the present it is located on University avenue, near San Pablo avenue.

Everybody always has a little of repairing of some kind to be done and they want to know where to go and have these little jobs done in a neat, tasty manner at small cost. A. E. Wands has a store and a machine shop in connection, where he is at all times ready to repair the old or sell the new. As a hardware store is supposed to contain even a greater variety than Noah's ark did, so does the store of Mr. E. Wands, which is located on Shattuck avenue near the East Berkeley railroad station. Anything from a jewsharp to a steam engine can be had at this place. Call and see the variety he keeps and you will be sure to find something you want.

The Oakland French Bakery is owned by Bidache & Jungua, who carry on the business under their personal supervision. They have a good run of custom in Berkeley and find it constantly increasing. They make the very best of French bread and deliver it daily in any part of the town. Their headquarters is at 820 Franklin street, corner of Sixth, Oakland.

Everybody in Berkeley knows Mrs. E. M. Kenney, the pioneer stationer. She has recently opened the new store in the postoffice building, East Berkeley, where can be found a choice stock of stationery and school supplies. All of the periodicals of the day are received here. People visiting the postoffice will find it very handy to get paper envelopes etc.

At the present prices of horses and hay hardly any person need be without an animal of this kind. To make him fully useful one must have a harness, saddle, halter, whip, blankets and brushes. Naturally he has to buy these articles. Now, P. Nichelmann is a manufacturer and dealer in everything of this kind, and as he personally takes a hand in the manufacture one can rely not only on getting any of the above outfit of the best quality, but as cheap as this kind of goods can be furnished. You will always find Mr. Nichelmann on hand in the Bruns block on the corner of San Pablo and University avenues to attend to customers personally.

H. W. Taylor, the lumber merchant, is well known all over Alameda and Contra Costa counties. He has built up a business in the past ten years that any man might be proud of. His wharf, which is a very long one, is always filled with various kinds of lumber, which come to him directly from the mills. This, with his wharf facilities, gives him a great advantage over all of the San Francisco lumber dealers as he can sell his material for what it costs them and then make money. He sells more lumber than any concern on this side of the bay and believes in quick sales and small profits. His yard and office is located on the water front at West Berkeley.

E. J. Shattuck & Co. have been in business for a number of years and continue to manufacture and supply the whole Coast with quantities of their superior printing and lithographic inks. They are also dealers in printing rollers and roller composition. This is another concern that patronizes home industry and in turn they should get home patronage. One good turn deserves another. Keep the money floating around home and then we shall all be happy.

Its dollars to dimes that J. Spenger & Co. on Fourth street, near University avenue, are doing a nice grocery business, and printer's ink is helping them along by keeping new comers posted as to what they keep and where they are to be found. We are pleased to note the increasing success of this company, which is well merited on account of the pains it takes to please all of its patrons. Nothing like being polite and obliging. It obtains and keeps many a customer.

President Richards' Review.

President Richards submitted the following as a financial showing of the town of Berkeley for 1895-96:

Road fund.....	$ 8,003.04
General fund.....	28,010.04
Saloon licenses.....	4,000.00
Municipal licenses.....	4,150.00
Municipal fees.....	415.00
Dog tags.....	250.00
Poundmaster's collections.....	225.00
Sewer permits.....	125.00
Town court fees.....	180.00
County court fees.....	250.00
	$45,608.68

Fixed expenses per month:

Marshal.....	$125.00
Supt. of Streets.....	115.00
Clerk.....	100.00
Treasurer.....	85.00
Attorney.....	75.00
Assessor and Janitor.....	75.00
Poundmaster.....	65.00
Deputy Marshals.....	140.00
Health Officer.....	35.00
President.....	50.00
Electric lights.....	639.00
Rent Treasurer's office.....	7.50
Rent Sanitary Insp' office.....	3.00
Rent Engine House, Lorin.....	4.00
Rent pound office.....	5.00
Care of engine houses & hose.....	35.00
Sprinkling streets.....	500.00
Justice of Peace.....	45.00

This leaves a balance of $9,912.25. This amount will be still further reduced by deducting some $500 due for the Eighth street bridge, and $180 per year salary of a transient officer.

President Richards further says that "At our last meeting bills were passed which will reduce the surplus $9912.25 to $8065.25. We have bills for hose to come in for $1000. Estimated cost of bond election $1000, leaving a balance of $6065.25. We must publish the ordinances as codified, and also pay the expenses attendant upon such work. We also have in contemplation the fitting up of this hall at an expense of $500. We have expended $2178.12 more than was expended during the corresponding period last year. A little explanation, however, will readily show the increased expenditures.

"There was left to us a legacy from the old Board, an electric light bill, amounting to $686.85. By deducting that bill from our account and charging it up to the preceding month, as it should be, our increase of expenditure will be reduced $804.42.

"When we take into consideration the fact that during the last five months there have been several unusual and extraordinary demands upon our funds. We have expended $432.75 upon the Town Hall. Indexing, codifying and expediting the books cost $499. Fitting every department with books, stationery, etc., has been quite an item of expense."

Simpson Safe.

Manager Eaton of Stanford has sent a communication to Manager Lang of Berkeley, asking him if he intends to give his team a rest before the Thanksgiving game, and stating that if he will do the same the Stanford will take a trip north for a week.

Manager Lang states that he has arranged a game for the Saturday before Thanksgiving with the Stockton team, which beat the Alameda University team not long ago.

The clause relating to the playing of special students will be in effect, but it will not prevent Simpson's playing as he is a regular student.

TO BE DEDICATED.

PAUL REVERE COUNCIL, JR. U. A. M. TO DEDICATE

The Handsome New Hall Erected for Them—Over 500 Visitors Will Take Part.

Hall Dedication.

American Hall, Junior Order United American Mechanics, will be dedicated tomorrow night, November 16th, by Paul Revere Council, No. 28, Jr. O. U. A. M. of this town. Abraham Lincoln Council No. 2, Starr King, No. 6, U. S. Grant No. 19, Jas. A. Garfield No. 21 all of San Francisco and headed by the California State Band of 30 pieces and a drum and five corps of 10 men, Gen. Geo. A. Ruster, Council No. 22 of Oakland and its drumcorps of 12 men and James Monroe, No. 24 of Alameda, will participate in the festivities of the occasion. Special cars have been chartered by the two latter Councils on the Telegraph electric line and a number of cars will be kept in reserve for the city Councils upon their arrival on the 7 o'clock boat at the mole, over 500 members being expected. Paolo Salisburry, Jr. Past Councilor of Paul Revere, No. 27, will act as President of the day and he will be ably assisted by E. J. Stewart as Chief Aid, and the following committee of arrangements: J. C. Sherratt, secretary; Geo. Moening, A. H. Wells, M. L. Ryder and A. St. John.

The visiting Councils will be drawn up in parade line on Stanford Place fronting Odd Fellows Hall, where Paul Revere Council will meet at 7:30 o'clock, go through the necessary routine business, and at 8 o'clock sharp marching down to greet its visitors will head the procession which will be formed by the Council in their numerical order. The line of march will be on Stanford place to University avenue, on Shattuck avenue to Allston way, countermarching on Shattuck avenue to the new hall, which will be named American Hall, Jr. O. U. A. M. and which was erected by the Williamson Bros. and will be furnished in elegant style for lodge purposes. Upon arrival at the new hall the following program of exercises will be gone through.

Words of welcome by the President of the day; overture, California State Band; Kellar's American Hymn, Paul Revere Quartet; Dedication, Rev. Dr. Ketchum; opening address, Albert C. Pait; vocal solo, Robert Bonner; dedicatory address, H. C. Schaertzer, State Councilor of California, Jr. O. U. A. M.; music, California State Band; vocal solo, Del B. Bowley, P. C.; Abe Lincoln No. 2; reading, "Paul Revere," J. C. Sherratt; vocal solo, Robert Bonner; guitar solo, H. A. Moening; "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," Paul Revere Quartet; national anthem, "America," by the Councils; grand march to banquet room, California State Band at the head of the guests, who will be entertained both intellectually and physically, a sumptuous spread having been provided by the members of Paul Revere No. 28, for their visiting brothers and invited guests.

May Nannery's Greatest Effort

On Monday next the patrons of the Oakland theatre will be accorded their first opportunity of witnessing the real acting ability of the talented little lady May Nannery, whose company has established this house. For many weeks she has accepted inferior roles, and the patrons have been waiting for some play, the equal of "Quena."

In "Gwynne's Oath" the public will not only see Miss Nannery, but the entire company at their best advantage and this little artist will doubtless repeat her former successes and receive repeated curtain calls nightly.

That petite and pretty little comedienne Helen Henry, who has many friends and admirers on this side of the bay will make her initial appearance with the company in the comedy role, "Gwynne's Oath" is one of Frohman's greatest successes, and with such an excellent cast will doubtless attract crowded houses. Tonight and tomorrow night "Our Regiment."

Beautifying Grounds.

Regent Reinstein and Mr. McLaren, Superintendent of Golden Gate Park, were on the campus yesterday taking a general survey of the grounds with a view to drawing up plans for enhancing their beauty, to be presented to the Regents for consideration.

Mr. Reinstein had asked Mr. McLaren to do what he could in this undertaking and in reply he received a letter offering any assistance in his power and will make no charge for the same.

Mr. Reinstein said today that it was their purpose to have the grounds surveyed by Professor Soule and a plaster cast of the topographical map made. If possible the map of the original survey, made by Frederick Olmstead, will be procured.

The friends of the University are making a determined effort to make the grounds an honor to the State instead of a barren waste. E. M. Wolf, '94, influenced a certain man, who does not wish his name published, to erect a drinking fountain on the campus and the Regents have accepted his offer. They have also accepted the offer of another gentleman to furnish 100 settees, to be placed about the grounds. The settees will be made of monumental iron and wood, and will be furnished as soon as the Committee on Buildings and Grounds have acted upon the matter.

Death of James Orvald.

James Jacob Orvald died yesterday morning at his late residence on the corner of Ninth and Rose streets of cancer of the stomach. He had been sick for several months and was quite a sufferer. Mr. Orvald had resided in Berkeley for about four years; previous to that he had been in the employ of Mr. Zortman near Petaluma for upwards of 30 years. He was a native of Sweden and at the time of his death was 54 years, 10 months and 14 days of age. Mr. Orvald leaves a wife, F. Gimbel of West Berkeley was his brother-in-law. The funeral will take place from his late residence on Sunday at 1 o'clock p. m., and the remains will be laid to rest in Mountain View cemetery. Many of his friends are expected from Petaluma to attend the services.

Lloyd and Benders Show.

On tomorrow evening the people of Berkeley will be treated to a first class theatrical performance at Sistrina Hall by the above named comedy company. The company is composed of a number of well known favorites in the theatrical world and their performance is clean and up to date. The company is composed of a dozen people who are now playing in San Francisco. The company after playing in West Berkeley will play through the State and then jump straight to New York. If you want to enjoy a good show be sure and attend. The best of order will prevail and seats can be had at popular prices.

Court News.

When John Walter was taken before Justice Lord today upon the charge of vagrancy he pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to five days in the County jail. Not so with William Robinson, however. He pleaded not guilty and stood trial. The consequence was he was convicted on his own testimony, and will have to think the matter over in confinement, at Oakland, for the next ten days.

John Waller and John Robinson were overhauled by Officer Rawson as suspicious characters. They are charged with being vagrants, and were placed in the West Berkeley jail previous to being taken before the Court for examination. If there are any people about town who cannot give a good account or themselves, they are liable to have to explain matters in a court of justice. Natives and strangers will be treated alike.

George N. Tate was arrested today by Officer Rawson upon the charge of petty larceny. As the complaint reads it means that he is accused of stealing two chickens from William Brown, valued at one dollar. It is said to have occurred about October 22, 1895. The defendant pleaded not guilty and will probably have his trial set for tomorrow afternoon.

THE MASS MEETING.

SHATTUCK HALL WELL FILLED WITH LEADING PEOPLE.

Addresses Made Thanking the Officials for Carrying out the Liquor Ordinance.

Good Government Club.

According to the announcement published in the GAZETTE a public mass meeting was held in Shattuck Hall, last evening.

The audience commenced to assemble in good season and at 8 o'clock the building was well filled with a well dressed and intelligent appearing audience comprised of both sexes about equal in numbers.

S. E. Moffitt of the Good Government Club opened the meeting by making a few appropriate remarks and then introduced President Kellogg of the State University as president of the evening.

President Kellogg came forward and called upon Rev. Ketchum for a prayer. This gentleman arose in his seat and with much earnestness asked a blessing upon those congregated and the duties they were called upon to perform.

Upon the conclusion of the prayer President Kellogg made quite a long address stating the object of the meeting was for the purpose of publicly endorsing the action of our municipal officers in their efforts to break up the illicit sale or storage of intoxicating liquors within the Town of Berkeley. He said the law was passed by members of the legislature who were not particularly temperance men but were men who thought it a wise law to have about Universities particularly where so many young people would otherwise be exposed to the many temptations which follow the saloon business. It protected them from intemperance the father of all evils. It was important that the law should be carried out. It was a matter of congratulation that the present officers of the town were so efficient and it made the hearts of the many people who had so long and faithfully fought this growing evil, glad for they could now see a beginning of the end in the destroying of this death, or worse than death, dealing traffic.

Mr. W. H. Waste was then called upon and he described to some extent how the ordinance against the liquor business had been prepared. The town attorney, with the assistance of other legal minds, had obtained copies of like ordinances which were in operation in many of the large cities in the East, and which had been legally tested by some of the most brilliant lawyers in the country, and found to be strong enough not to be broken. From all of this data the present ordinance had been formulated. He trusted the courts would sustain it. Heretofore it has been very troublesome to carry the law out. He had just read a decision in one of the upper courts where the fact that liquors, in quantity, found on premises, was sufficient prima facie evidence that it was kept for sale. A duty the citizens of Berkeley owed to the municipality was, when the time came, not to refuse practically to do jury duty. They must throw aside a great deal and perform a service for the benefit of the whole community. Furthermore, it would be unpleasant for a Court to have to fine people for contempt of Court if parties did not obey a judicial summons.

General Wagner's name was called and in a few words, fitting the occasion, he said he was a law abiding citizen, and wanted to see all good and wholesome laws carried out. Professor George H. Howison of the University stated that while there might be some question as to the advisability of having a prohibitory law, he questioned the policy as to the value of the law. While he was opposed to prohibitory laws as long as there were such he was in favor of carrying them out. A spirit of rebellion arose within him when he was aware that what he should eat and drink was controlled by a law. He believed indifference in the enforcement of the laws showed a lack of fealty by the public and was really a greater crime than the evil of drunkenness itself. He did not wish to express any feeling that he did not appreciate the great evils of drunkenness. The evils of the present day are caused by not carrying out the laws. Prof. P. R. Boone felt full sympathy for the law and wanted it enforced and he further hoped that the electors would turn out in good numbers and vote for bonding the town for the purpose of erecting a High School house. Professor Brown of the University also stated that his full sympathies were with the law and he hoped it would be carried out to its full extent.

Rev. Geo. C. Hatch made a short speech which put the audience in good humor. He had noticed that whenever prosecutions came forward that the same parties were always defendants. It looked to him that there must be some fire where there was so much smoke. Messrs. George M. Robertson and George W. Haight also made good speeches, following out the same line taken by the previous speakers. Marshal Lloyd was then called and in a few terse words stated that it was his intention to carry out the law as he understood it, which was to prevent the illicit sale of intoxicating liquors in any part of Berkeley. Justice James in that becoming manner so proverbial with him, stated briefly that he should do his duty in the premises to the extent of his ability, and hoped in the end that his own conscience would be satisfied and at the same time the people of Berkeley would be satisfied with his administration of the law. S. E. Moffett then read some resolutions specially prepared which were unanimously adopted by the people en masse. The meeting then adjourned. All were well pleased and retired to their homes in a very good state of mind.

IVAN KOVALEV

WHO IS ON TRIAL FOR MURDER CONFESSES.

W. W. Fulton's Lao Dameen Wins the Derby Cup in London Today.

Special dispatches to the GAZETTE.

Kooalev Confesses.

Sacramento, Nov. 15.—The Bee today will contain a sensational story by stating that Ivan Kooalev, who is on trial for the murder of the Webber family in December last, has confessed.

The Bee will say that Major Anderson and Senator Hart, encouraged by the improved appearance of their client took him into Judge Thompson's private chambers this morning in order to talk over with him a line of defense. A Russian interpreter was present. Upon being asked where he was at the time the crime was committed he said that he was in Sacramento. He also stated that he was in the Webber house on night of the murder. He was then asked whether he had committed the murder and he coolly answered, "that is for you to find out." He said that Mr. Chserbkoff was with him at the Webber house on the night of the murder, evidently thinking that by making this admission he would get off. The trial will proceed but the confession will be kept from the jury. His attorneys are so surprised that they will probably withdraw from the case.

Took the Derby.

London, Nov. 15.—W. W. Fulton's Leo Dameen won the derby cup of $10,000 today.

Seeks a Pardon.

Washington, Nov. 15.—President Cleveland will be asked to pardon Mareno Selsono who was sentenced to ninety days in the District Jail for libeling Baron Fava.

More Bloodshed.

Constantinople, Nov. 15.—Rioting is going on at Faracas, and a great deal of blood has been shed. Order has been partially restored. The Turks have done all in their power to defend foreigners. There is no change in the situation at present.

Still Missing.

Denver, Nov. 15.—The whereabouts of Schlatter, the healer, is said to be known to his friends, but thus far the United States officers have failed to locate him.

No Truth In It.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The statement that a second ultimatum had been sent to Venezuela by Great Britain is a pure fabrication. The original so-called ultimatum has not yet been placed in the hands of the British government.

Eben C. Jordan Dead.

Boston, Nov. 15.—Eben C. Jordan of the firm of Jordan, Marsh & Co., died in this city today.

Sailors Drowned.

Shanghai, Nov. 15.—The steam launch belonging to the British cruiser Edgar is reported to have been lost in Japanese waters with forty-eight men.

To Read the Bible.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—A petition containing over 6000 names will be presented to the Board of Education this evening, asking that the bible be read in the public schools. The petition has been got up by the Women's Educational Union of Chicago.

There will be a large crowd of people at Shattuck hall this evening on the occasion of the Crescent Athletic Club's grand entertainment. Its membership is composed of some of Berkeley's leading citizens and it now ranks as one of the leading clubs in the State. If you have not got your ticket, purchase it at once. The bicycle race alone will be worth double what it will cost you to see it.

The Breen divorce case is still going on in Judge Ogden's Court and the witnesses on both sides are giving very damaging testimony which shows that the domestic affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Breen have not been of the most tranquil for a long time.

HOME INDUSTRY.

Now that there is a good possibility of the town of Berkeley having a new wharf, grammar and high schools erected, would it not be well to consider who the $300,000 should be expended among. The trustees in advertising for bids should insert a clause that all material used in the construction of a wharf and schools be purchased from Berkeley merchants in every case that Berkeley merchants can sell as low as elsewhere, also that in the employment of laborers, mechanics and others, that residents of Berkeley be given the first show, before any outsiders are taken on. If this is done the money will be kept right here in Berkeley and the laborer and mechanic who is trying to pay for his home on the installment plan will thus be given an opportunity by getting work on these new enterprises. The business man will also benefit by it, as he will make a profit from his goods which will be purchased by these workers.

We have large lumber yards in our midst and they should be able to sell lumber and timber for the wharf and schools as cheap as elsewhere, thus keeping the vast amount of money in Berkeley. We have planing mills equal to any in San Francisco or Oakland that can and will furnish all the mill work that will be needed, as cheaply as it can be procured elsewhere.

Our people should see that every dollar of this $300,000 which will be expended, provided the people are true to themselves and vote the bonds, which we are positive they will, is kept in Berkeley. The circulation of so much money in one year in this city means much more than one thinks without giving the matter a thought so let everybody get down to work in good earnest and carry the election for wharf and school bonds by an almost unanimous vote and we will see the most prosperous times that have ever been had in Berkeley.

One week ago Mr. T. F. Graber appeared before the Board of Trustees in behalf of his client, W. F. Schmidt, and asked that a contract which had been entered into by him with the city to grade Walnut street be rescinded. Trustee Martin opposed the rescinding of the contract on the ground that the attorney of the Board had given it as his opinion that the contract was legal and that Mr. Schmidt could be held to it. The other members of the Board all expressed themselves in favor of the opinion of the attorney, but thought that as this was the first time that Mr. Schmidt had asked the Board to be released from any contract, they thought it best to let him off and all of them voted for his release except Mr. Martin. At the last meeting of the Board Mr. Martin introduced a resolution releasing Mr. Schmidt as it was the sense of the Board that a hardship should not be worked upon him. Mr. Graber's organ at once rushes into print with the statement that "Mr. Martin is gently sarcastic," and that his resolution was received with hilarity. This is only an attempt to get back at Mr. Martin and Mr. Hayne and falls harmless, as the public have got perfect confidence in these gentlemen both as trustee and town attorney, and pays no attention to such stabs on the back on the part of Mr. Graber's organ.

This people of San Francisco intend holding a grand mass meeting in that city on Sunday next for the purpose of denouncing the immorality and to back up the courts in the trial and conviction of the three men now under arrest, charged with debauching a score or more of young girls from the age of six years to fifteen years. The men who are charged with this horrible debauchery are wealthy and they have already announced that money will keep them out of jail. The object of the mass meeting is to foil them. What with the Durrant case and these later crimes a little bit of the old vigilante justice at this time would do more to purify San Francisco of some of its most disgusting features than anything that we know of.

One week from today Theodore Durrant, the murderer of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams, will have to stand up before Judge Murphy and hear from his honor's lips the sentence of death. We would advise Durrant to act upon the advice given a prisoner in Tombstone, Arizona, some years ago by W. F. Fitzgerald, then the District Judge of Arizona but now Attorney-General of the State of California, which was as follows: "The sentence of this Court is that you be hanged by the neck until you are dead. Take my advice and don't waste your time in trying to obtain a new trial, for you will never get it. The time is short and you had better use it in making your peace with your God."

It is quite possible that both Brady, who is on trial at Marysville for murder and train robbery, and Kovalev, who is also on trial in Sacramento for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Webber, feel an itching about the neck, which will soon be encircled by a greased rope. The evidence against both of them is overwhelming and their conviction is certain. When they receive their sentence they will be taken to San Quentin where we hope they will soon be joined by that arch fiend Durrant.

Mrs. Eva Clark, a colored lady living on Fifth street, gave birth this morning to a bouncing baby girl, and strange to relate the child was as white as though born of white parents.

NOTICE.

In the Superior Court of the County of Alameda, State of California.
In the matter of Charles F. Schramm, Insolvent Debtor.
Charles F. Schramm having filed in this Court his petition, schedule and inventory in insolvency, by which it appears that he is an insolvent debtor, the said Charles F. Schramm is hereby declared to be insolvent.
The Sheriff of the County of Alameda is hereby directed to take possession of all the estate, real and personal, of the said insolvent debtor, except such as may be by law exempt from execution, and of all his debts, vouchers, books of account and papers, and to keep the same safe until the appointment of an assignee herein.
All persons are forbidden to pay any debts to the said insolvent debtor, or to deliver any property belonging to said insolvent debtor to him, or to any person, firm or corporation, or association for his use.
The said debtor is hereby forbidden to transfer or deliver any property, until the further order of this Court, except as herein ordered.
It is further ordered, that all the creditors of said debtor whose claims shall have been placed on file in the office of the Clerk of this Court, at least two days prior to the 8th day of November, 1895, be and appear before the Superior Court, of the County of Alameda, State of California, in the County Court, at the Courtroom of the County of Alameda, on the said 8th day of November, 1895, at 10 o'clock a. m. or that day to prove their debts, and choose an assignee of the estate of said debtor.
It is further ordered that this order be published in the Berkeley Gazette, a newspaper of general circulation, published in the County of Alameda, as often as the said newspaper is published before the said day set for the meeting of creditors.
And it is further ordered, that, in the meantime, all proceedings against the said insolvent debtor be stayed.
Dated November 11, 1895.

CAPE COD ALBINOS.

A COLONY OF PINK EYED AND WHITE HAired PEOPLE.

It is About 150 Years Old and at One Time It Numbered About Fifty Persons. The Story of the Pittsleys and Their Physical Peculiarities.

Since the appearance of albino girls in side shows and dime museums the general public has indulged in considerable speculation as to where the managers of these freak aggregations procure their frizzly haired specimens. Although seldom met with at other places, there is at Cape Cod a settlement of these pink eyed and white haired people. For generations the Pittsley family, known in the section as the "white haired Pittsleys," have been albino. They have intermarried, and although clannish in the extreme, years ago took into the family fold a man named Reynolds, in whose children the peculiarity cropped out, and added the "white haired Reynolds" to the little army of Cape Cod's human curiosities. Until quite recently a dozen or 15 Pittsleys albino might have been found within half as many miles of each other and sometimes under the same roof. But the families in which there are albinos have scattered lately and spread over the most lonely parts of the country from Freetown to Wareham, at the entrance to Cape Cod.

The museum albino and the albino in real life have little in common. The albino at home is disappointing. His or her hair isn't crimped to the museum limit. It doesn't stand out a la Circassian. In the natural Pittsley state the albino hair is dingy, because they don't know any better, and if they did they probably wouldn't adopt the modern methods of washing hair.

The eyes of the albino in this region prove their albinism beyond question. They are usually described as pink, like rabbits' eyes. They are extremely weak and almost closed, so that it is difficult to get a square look into the eye itself. When the eye is opened, the lid is lifted only for a second, and it takes a quick look to discover that the pupil is dark red and surrounded with a lighter red ring, while the ball of the eye is pale pink and surrounded with the pinkish rim of the eyelid. The effect would be thoroughly pink if the eye remained at rest. It is almost impossible to obtain a direct look into the eye, because from the eye of the healthy albino red lights seem to dart, while the pupil quivers and dilates and seems to move unceasingly.

It is over a century and a half since the appearance of the first albino was recorded in the Pittsley tribe. Since that time probably more than 100 have been born bearing this name or having mothers from this family. At one time it is estimated that only a few less than 50 albinos were living within a radius of 25 miles. Barnum might have held an albino congress if he had been able to engage all of these people with the wonderful wine red pupils. It has always been among the legends of the county that the great showman did recruit his collection from this locality, but today the proud Pittsleys deny indignantly that Barnum ever had money enough to engage even one of them to pose in public.

The origin of the family is connected with one of the wickedest episodes of the early history of the new world. There is even a chance that perhaps some Pittsley was a relative or friend of the sweet and pious Evangeline. When the English deported from the vales of Acadia the families of French neutrals and scattered them in almost every settlement from the mouth of the Penobscot around to Louisiana, Freetown, which was near the colony of Plymouth, had not been able to send its full quota of men to the army. So in the distribution of the French from Acadia 15 men, with some women and children, were left in Freetown. The bitterest of all was the separation and splitting up of families. The people were filled with dejection, and the poorest of them apparently built some rude lodges in the forests and took no care how they lived. None spoke their language. They were strangers in habits and manners. Men had been separated from wives and daughters, and wives left without their husbands.

Just what the name of the French neutral ancestor of the albino Pittsleys may have been no research has ever revealed. On the town records, until within 50 years, the name has been Piggeley. In many cases the name Piggeley has been corrupted into "Huggesley."

The first appearance of pink eyes and white hair was in a Robert Pittsley somewhere in the first half of the eighteenth century. Some place it as early as 1781. From that time down the albino characteristics have been continually reproduced. It is believed that continual intermarriage has been largely instrumental in handing down the pink eyes and white hair. The Pittsleys were clannish. They wouldn't mingle with other families, much less take wives from them. They clung to themselves, but often one family made a home for itself in some deserted house or jettisoned house in a lonely part of the woods or out of the way end of a township. They rarely came to town to live. In their ways and their love of outdoor life those people show many of the characteristics of the gypsy, and another point which allies them to the wandering clannish is their ability to "swap" horses, a business at which most all of the males are experts. They are illiterate and account for their physical peculiarities by the theory that one of their ancestors had his hair torn white after a fright and bequeathed his curious hair unto possession to his children.—Philadelphia Times.

Home Thru.
It is said that the saying, "Much may be done with a Scotchman if he be caught young," which has passed into a historical witticism, was first spoken by Dr. Johnson in reference to Lord Mansfield. An amusing little incident is said to have given rise to the remark.
Lord Mansfield, having received his education entirely in England, always considered himself an Englishman, but the fact that he was born in Scotland was once referred to with great effect.
General Sabine, governor of Gibraltar at the time, having failed in his attempts to extort money from a Jew, sent him back by force to Tetuaf, in Morocco, from whence he had come to Gibraltar. The Jew afterward went to England and sued the governor for damages.
Lord Mansfield, who was then known as Mr. Murray, was counsel for the governor. In the course of his defense before the jury he said:
"True, the Jew was banished. But where? Why, to the place of his nativity! Where is the cruelty, where the hardship, where the injustice of banishing a man to his own country?"
Mr. Nowell, counsel for the Jew, retorted: "Since my learned friend thinks so lightly of the matter, I ask him to suppose the case his own. Would he like to be banished to his native land?"
The court rang with peals of laughter, in which Murray himself joined with a right good will.—Youth's Companion.

A Useful Dog.
"You say that I'm not altogether objectionable to your parents," he said ruefully.
"No," she replied, "father and mother both speak very highly of you."
"Then why does that big dog assault me every time I come near and chew a piece out of my clothes?"
"Oh, you mustn't mind Brutus. He's trained to do that. Anny has gotten almost enough samples from him to make a lovely patchwork quilt."
Washington Star.

Old Time Postage Rates.
In 1813 postage rates in the United States were: Single letters by land, 40 miles, 8 cents; 90 miles, 10 cents; 150 miles, 12 1/2 cents; 300 miles, 17 cents; 500 miles, 20 cents; over 500 miles, 25 cents. Double letters, twice the single rates, one ounce at the rate of four single letters.

There is one thing in this world that in order to give satisfaction has got to be perfect, and that is a photograph.
